Building Tomorrow With Yesterday.

Dedication

Mr. Jack G. Kaylor, Principal

A native of Keokee, Virginia, Mr. Kaylor graduated from Appalachia, VA, High School. He served his country in the United States Navy and was honorably discharged in April, 1946. He then enrolled at East Tennessee State University and earned his Bachelor of Science Degree in Social Studies and English. Mr. Kaylor has devoted his working life to the education of youth. His teaching career began in 1950 as an English teacher at Wise High School. He later served as Principal of Dunbar, VA, Elementary School and as an English teacher at War, WV, Junior High School. In 1954 he became Distributive Education Coordinator and Adult Instructor at George Wythe High School, Wytheville, VA.

In 1960 he became Assistant Principal of George Wythe High School, and within four years he became that school's Principal, serving until 1967, when he became Principal of Rocky Gap Combined School, where he has remained for the past eighteen years. He has also been a part-time lecturer/instructor at Wytheville Community College.

Between 1950 and 1963 he spent much time in the classroom as a student studying at Virginia Commonwealth University, Richmond, VA; The College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, VA; and VPI and SU in Blacksburg, VA, where he earned a Master of Education Degree in School Administration and Psychology in 1963.

He is Past President of the Wythe County Kiwanis Club, Honorary Life Member of the Distributive Education Clubs of America, Honorary member of the Future Farmers of America and a member of the former Wytheville Men's Choir. His hobbies include working with wood, landscaping, music and playing the guitar.

His wife is the former Jeanette Weiss from Big Stone Gap, VA, and they have one daughter, Lisa, who is a Registered Nurse.

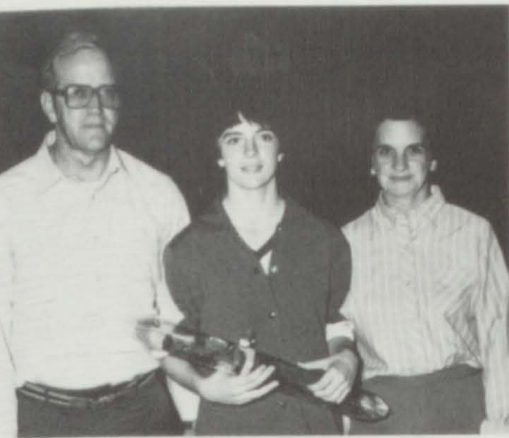

The students know where he stands — he makes promises he can and does keep. He is personable and highly visible as his presence is felt during the changing of classes and during lunch break. As an approachable and concerned individual in the present and future well being of the students, he opens his door for the discussion of any problem — large or small. Quick to act to the immediacy of any situation, he has the ability to anticipate "trouble" and "trouble situations." He is benevolent to students, often loaning them lunch money, transporting sick students, or catering to their every need. This energetic and unselfish individual provides many school activities for the students' enjoyment. Furthermore, he is an avid supporter of all Rocky Gap School athletic teams and proudly watches as teams gain respect for their school. He has gained the respect of all for his integrity.

Perhaps his major contribution to the education of the students at Rocky Gap Combined School is his strong advocacy of the need for a disciplined student body as the appropriate atmosphere for learning.

We, the 1985 yearbook staff, proudly dedicate this edition of the ROGAHI to Mr. Jack G. Kaylor, Principal of Rocky Gap Combined School.

1984-85 The Year of Transition

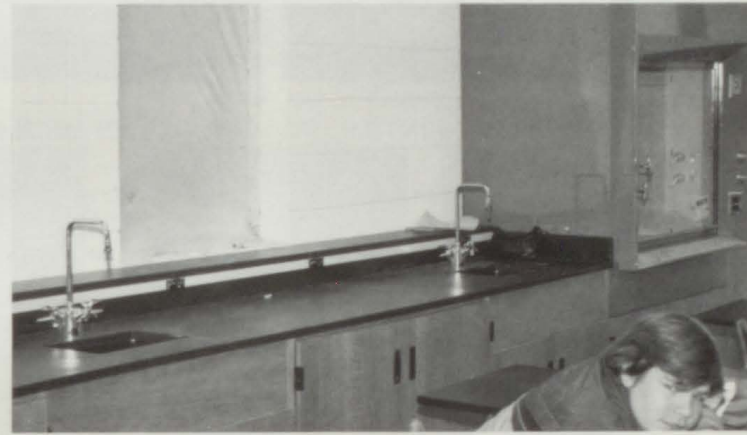

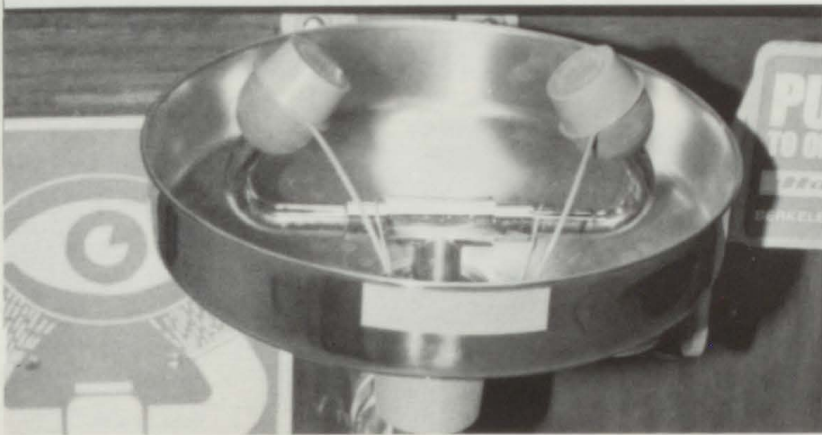

In 1955 Rocky Gap High School was completed and during the first semester of the 1955-56 school year, students entered the building for the first time.

Now, thirty years later, the building is in transition. Although students still go to it, it is being given a massive face lift. Dust has filled the air, and the sounds of construction have daunted even the most dedicated teachers. New additions to the school have appeared: larger rooms for business and science classes; a larger office; new ceilings for all the classrooms at the front of the building, including the lunchroom; new flooring tile; and an entirely new science lab.

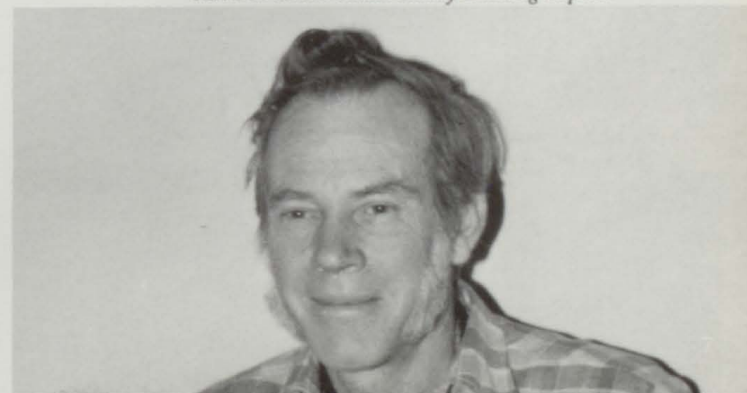

Rocky Gap High, like a living organism, continues its growth, striving to keep up with the times and continuously provide a solid education to all of its students.

For Rocky Gap High School

Concerts have been plentiful this year, too. The choir and band have given several concerts to the elementary classes during the day, as well as combining with Bland to perform for the high school classes at Christmas and for the Spring performance.

One of the highlights of the year was the Christmas Music Festival held at Rocky Gap High on December 7. Several local churches performed with the elementary band, high school choir, and high school band. Lunch was served and Santa was there to have his picture made with the kids.

The Spring concert was also a big success. After performing, the band members were given their awards and there was plenty of refreshments.

The students had a good time on all of their trips to hear professional choirs perform. They also had the opportunity to see a musical play.

The band and choir have been extremely busy. Starting in the first few weeks of school, the students began raising money for their trip to King's Dominion in the Spring. Christmas ornaments, cheese, raffle tickets, and bake sales were just part of the fund-raising activities. Finally, after a lot of hard work, the band and choir students left after school on April 19 to pick up the Bland students. They arrived at their hotel that evening and were excited about spending the day at the park which had been especially reserved for visiting and performing bands from all over. The next day, the students enjoyed a tour at a museum during their stop through Richmond.

The band students also had a successful marching season. In September, the band traveled to the Virginia Tech Band Celebration to perform at the half-time show along with the thirteen other marching bands.

Later that month, the band marched in the Chilhowie Apple Festival Parade. After marching, they were invited to watch the other bands compete in the field competition. The band also marched in the Bluefield and Wytheville Christmas Parades in December.

Some students participated in competitions this year. Penny Moses auditioned for All-Regional Choir in November. She was accepted and on March 1 and 2 participated with other choir members in a concert held at Pulaski Middle School.

Lisa Gilpin and Lisa Beavers also auditioned for All-Regional Band in December and both were accepted. Lisa Gilpin placed in the Concert Band in the thirteenth chair and Lisa Beavers placed in the eleventh chair in the Symphonic Band. A concert was given at Abingdon High School on February 1-3.
