From running noses, ice cream smeared on our faces, fighting over our spot in the lunch line to having our first date, our first job, and driving vehicles, one could say we have changed a lot. We looked up to the high school kids. Hey! High school kids got to write in their own notebooks with pens. Elementary got the big ruled paper and pencils. Wow! We couldn't wait to roam the high school halls. Even though we might be thrown in trash cans, would have to share lockers, and be pushed around by seniors, high school would be better than forest animals painted on the elementary walls.

One day what seemed like an eternity had finally arrived. We were big, bad high school kids. Now in the blink of an eye we are seniors. We've gained members to our class of '95 and also lost a few. We have the largest graduating class since 1991 out of our five years in high school.

Our class has seen many changes. A new gym was built, Bastian combined with Rocky Gap, classes are brought by satellite, eight additional class rooms were built onto the high school, new teachers came, there is a golf team, a combined football team and a girl's volleyball team. Our mark has been etched into Rocky Gap and wherever we leave our mark in the future, may God be with us!

DAYDREAMS

Walking along a sun beat path
A pleasant scene comes to me
But it will not last.

It will pass
Like the one before
And the one before that

They come and go
Like the summer rain
Lasting only long enough
To bring a fresh new change

But hold them dear
And do not fear
Cause more will arrive
Cherished like a hard won prize.
